COMMUNICATION AND IMPACT

Interdisciplinarity

I actively maintain an interdisciplinary research profile by publishing and reviewing within top-tier journals across three core disciplines. I bring this experience into the classroom by delivering lectures that emphasize interdisciplinary applications of geoinformatics. I submit interdisciplinary research grant proposals that undergo simultaneous peer-review from multiple discipline committees. Examples:

	cognitive psychology	architectural science	geoinformatics published in...	Journal of Environmental Psychology	Environment and Planning B	Journal of Spatial Information Science reviewed for...	Spatial Cognition and Computation	Computers, Environment and Urban Systems	International Journal of Geographical Information Science is teaching...	Spatial Cognition course	classes on Space Syntax and indoor wayfinding	Wayfinding and Navigation course
